TAMPA – (February 9, 2017) – A new partnership between Innovative-e and Concerto Cloud Services leverages cloud technologies to accelerate project, program, and portfolio management (PPM) solutions for government, healthcare and manufacturing teams and organizations. Concerto Cloud Services is a fully managed cloud services provider for mission-critical applications; Innovative-e is a leader in helping enterprise organizations accelerate agility, adoption and control for PPM management.

“After conducting extensive research of different cloud solution providers, Concerto Cloud Services stood out as a high-performing, quality provider of hosting services with a reputation for exceptional customer support,” said Mike Taylor, CEO and President of Innovative-e. “Concerto is initially providing us with a hosted SharePoint environment, but we’re looking forward to leveraging this relationship and the talented Concerto team to provide additional cloud-based project management solutions to our customers.”

Innovative-e is the latest organization to join The Concerto Partner Network, which provides participants with the guidance to efficiently and effectively implement profitable cloud models for their own customers. The network gives organizations solutions tailored to their business, in addition to technical, operational, sales and marketing support, to help them on their journey to a successful cloud business transformation. For Innovative-e, Concerto is providing a hosted SharePoint environment, which will be built on to leverage other cloud services.

“This partnership will help Innovative-e bolster its project management services through the cloud, and offer new models and solutions that will streamline business processes for its customers,” said Steve Terp, president of Concerto Cloud Services. “We’re committed to supporting partners like Innovative-e and equipping them with the tools they need to leverage the cloud to increase sales by delivering exceptional customer experiences.”
